Tages

Kirkoswald Global Macro UCITS Fund (the “Sub-Fund”) a sub-fund of Tages International Funds ICAV, managed by Waystone Fund Management (IE) Limited (the “Manager”) CHF Retail Pooled Class Shares (IE000IYAH51)

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to seek positive returns for investors by investing in global emerging and developed markets.

The Sub-Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by employing an investment strategy that focuses on the macroeconomic factors that influence the world's economies and the effects on those economies of government and central bank policies. The Sub-Fund will invest across various asset classes, with a primary focus on fixed income securities (i.e. bonds, warrants and other debt securities), currencies and foreign exchange and to a lesser extent, on equities (i.e. shares of companies), equity-related securities (i.e. securities which have the potential to convert into a share of a company) and equity indices.

The Sub-Fund does not have a particular industry or sector focus and is expected to hold 75% of its exposure in emerging markets based assets.

Kirkoswald Capital Partners LLP and Kirkoswald Asset Management, LLC act as the sub-investment manager and investment adviser respectively of the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Fund may invest directly or use derivatives, such as swaps, options, futures and forward foreign exchange contracts, to gain indirect exposure to investments. A derivative is a contract the value of which depends on the change in price of an agreed-upon underlying financial asset, index or security. Some derivatives give the holder the economic effect of a long or short position in the underlying asset without actually having to buy or sell it directly. The Sub-Fund can take short positions in any asset class through derivatives, as well as hedging its exposure to an asset class by using derivatives to take an offsetting long or short exposure to the same or another asset class.

In broad terms, long positions mean that the Sub-Fund will benefit if prices go up, but lose if prices go down. Short positions mean the Sub-Fund will make a profit if the value of the investment goes down, but it will lose money if the value of the investment goes up. Unless the loss is capped or offset by another investment, such losses could theoretically be unlimited. Under normal market conditions, it is expected that the value of the long and short positions held by the Sub-Fund will each represent up to 800% of the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund at any one time.

In addition, the Sub-Fund may invest in open-ended exchange traded funds and other open ended collective investment schemes which provide exposures consistent with the above, including short positions in ETFs for hedging purposes. Investment in open-ended funds will be limited to 10% of the Net Asset Value. The Sub-Fund may, in certain circumstances, invest up to 100% of its Net Asset Value in cash, cash equivalents, bonds and money market instruments for cash management purposes. The Sub-Fund may also enter into repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements for efficient portfolio management purposes.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed, meaning the Investment Manager actively selects and invests the securities in which the Sub-Fund invests with the aim of meeting the investment objective of the Sub-Fund, and is not managed with reference to a benchmark or index.

You may sell your shares in the Sub-Fund on any Wednesday that is a bank business day in Dublin, Ireland and London, United Kingdom, or if not a bank business day, on the next bank business day. If there are no more bank business days in that calendar month, you may sell your shares on the last bank business day in that month. You must submit your application to the Sub-Fund's Administrator before 1.00 p.m. (Irish time) three business days before the day on which you want to sell.

Your shares do not pay income, but instead the Sub-Fund reinvests such income to grow your capital.

As your shares are denominated in CHF and the Sub-Fund is valued in USD, forward contracts are used to attempt to eliminate the effects of changes in the currency exchange rates against the USD.

Recommendation: the Sub-Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 3-5 years.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time. This indicator is not a measure of the risk that you may lose the amount you have invested. We have calculated the Sub-Fund's risk and reward category, as shown above, using the methods set by EU regulations.

The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'.

The Sub-Fund is in category 7 as it invests in securities that can vary significantly in price from day to day due to a variety of factors. Therefore the chance to make large gains means the risk of suffering large losses.

The risk-reward indicator does not take account of the following risks of investing in the Sub-Fund:

Short Selling Risk: The Sub-Fund may create synthetic short positions through the use of derivatives. Short positions behave differently from long positions, and the Sub-Fund can for example come under pressure to close out short positions at short notice, and before an offsetting long position can mature. This can create unexpected losses from positions that might otherwise have been seen as low risk or well hedged.

Credit Risk and Counterparty Risk: The Sub-Fund will be exposed to a credit risk in relation to the counterparties with whom it transacts or places margin or collateral in respect of transactions in FDI. To the extent that a counterparty defaults on its obligation and the Sub-Fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights with respect to the investments in its portfolio, it may experience a decline in the value of its position, lose income and incur costs associated with asserting its rights. Regardless of the measures the Sub-Fund may implement to reduce counterparty credit risk, however, there can be no assurance that a counterparty will not default or that the Sub-Fund will not sustain losses on the transactions as a result.

Derivatives and Leverage Risk: Leverage arises from entering into derivatives, the terms of which can have the effect of magnifying an outcome, meaning the profits and losses from an investment can be greater than if the investment is made directly into the underlying securities.

Emerging Markets Risk: Emerging markets that are at an early stage of development typically experience higher levels of return fluctuation than well-established economies. Political and economic challenges may temporarily result in illiquid markets, higher volatility in process and currencies, higher inflation, greater controls on foreign investment, less protection of assets and less developed laws to protect investors.
